"Maraseel" family is pleased to put in the hands of its dear readers the first edition of the quarterly newsletter for 2020-2019, which highlights the most prominent news and activities of the Foundation. We hope to receive a positive resonance for the good of all.
An Assembly in Honor of Migrants

Imam Sadr Foundation held an assembly to honor Lebanese Migrants in recognition of their role in continuously supporting Lebanese society through its myriad of crisis. A hand full of migrants appeared at the Cultural Complex in Tyre on Monday July 29th, 2019, where they were welcomed by Mrs. Rabab Sadr, Foundation Chairperson and by Mr. Nijad Charafeddine, General Director.

Mrs. Sadr gave a speech; she said: “We wouldn’t have been able to continue our services had it not been for your spread in diaspora; the promise to meet you every summer and other occasions gives us stamina and hope to go on.” Mrs. Sadr called on company present to visit the Foundation and see each and every department; in Beirut, Tyre or any other location in the South.

Dr. Joe Rahal, Minister of Foreign Affairs Advisor for the Physically Challenged Groups praised the work achieved by the Foundation and thanked migrants for the efforts they do in support of their country. This assembly included artistic and musical works, exhibition of Foundation’s workshops and village-style dinner.

Poet Zeinab Aquil served as Master of Ceremony for the occasion.

General Administrators’ Participation

Mrs. Rabab Sadr participated in a Christian-Islamic Dialogue titled: “Peace be to You, Mary.” On May 28th, 2019 in Romieh, at The Antonin Sisters’ St. Doumit High School. Mrs. Sadr recollected what the Holy Quran said about Mary pbuh and pointed out some issues hoping there would be a deeper knowledge of Mary pbuh so that: “… we may have the upper hand, as far as experience, in women’s lives and leading by example and to what we want to guide our daughters among families, schools and in every field of work, with great deal of passion; I pray to God that He bestows a clear vision upon us for The Virgin Mary’s life after giving birth to Jesus pbuh.” In marking the 41st, anniversary of the abduction of Imam Moussa Sadr and his two companions, “Ta’ou Nehki” Youth (Let’s talk) organized a dialogue assembly named “Present Among Us”, in cooperation with Chekief Municipalities Union, Nabatiyeh Municipality and Beit El Mosawer where Mr. Nijad Charafeddine, Foundation’s Director General participated.

On Tuesday, July 30th, 2019 Imam Sadr Foundation celebrated the graduation of new batch of students at the AFAC Institute for Development. The ceremony started with reading few verses from the Holy Quran and the National and Institute Anthems. Then Mr. Nijad Charafeddine gave a speech welcoming the audience and stated that section of training comes in the context of enabling people to fight poverty, pursuant to Imam Sadr’s call, pertaining to the need to combat ignorance, poverty and disease. He added that those girls are the future mothers and the Foundation’s message carriers and they must be on the extent of this responsibility. Then came the graduates’ speech that was inspired by an innovative content, where nursing school graduates talked about their experience at the Institute and of life experiences and thanked for their care and training over the years.

Tyre Mayor, Eng. Hassan Dbouk praised the event and its theme; he thanked the founders of the Foundation while appreciating their leading role in the local development and stressed the importance of preserving the Foundation and participating in working with them. He also wished the graduates every success, he stressed that Ms. Rabab Sadr’s interest in them must be their strongest motivation to spread the ideas of the Foundation and the teachings of Imam Moussa Sadr.

Then, certificates distribution began, and the graduates were distributed among several specializations including nursing, photography, beauty specialists and social work. Students Fatima Amer and Ibtisam Muhanna were the M.C.’s.

“Greet with One’s Smile Before their Hand Shake” Pursuant to that statement and to complement a mother’s role, who has always worked carrying all the meanings of humanity and absolute giving; aiming at bringing joy to the hearts and souls for those that were deprived for the joys of life and were burdened with concerns and responsibilities, AFAC Institute for Development students paid a visit to women at the Al-Aman Center for Elderly Care in Jowaya as a gesture in order to bring joy to those souls that are full of giving.

Imam Sadr Foundation Scouts

Scouting is the most humane form of community conservation. It is human social security and human innate insurance when it attacks humans. Based on Imam Sadr Foundation vision pertaining to society maintenance and to women empowerment, Rehab Zahraa established a scout regiment aimed at building girls character in multiple areas and mobilizing their abilities and energies.

Rehab Zahraa Scout Regiment in a Glimpse:
• It was launched in December 2017.
• It targets 286 of the beneficiaries of Rehab Zahra School.

- It includes 8 Scout Units:
  1. Beavers
  2. Blossoms (4 units)
  3. Girl Guides (2 units)
  4. Pioneers

- The cohort command consists of 38 leaders and assistants from the school staff, its university students, volunteers from other departments and internal institutes at Imam Sadr Foundation. They were all trained on principles, foundations and methods of the scout movement and the arts of camping and outdoor living by specialized scout leaders.
